

Hanging Thoughts

I know the thoughts that I think toward you, ... you will seek me, and find me, when you search with all your heart.
Jeremiah 29

"You should be in a hammock on Sabbath, not a pew."

Don C Harris

Actions condemned by church may not be sin; actions condoned by church may be sin. Spend time in quietness to gain understanding that cannot be otherwise obtained. Turn off the entertainment and find your way...

The conclusion of the matter:

Decide this Sabbath day to keep the Sabbath in quiet. Turn the radio off. Turn the TV off. Lay your Bible down and spend some time with the Lord.

This is what will happen:

- The cares of this world start coming in.
- You start to gain what's called understanding.
- Understanding is the knowledge that is underneath what you say.
- You'll find your speech will begin to change.
- You won't say every stupid thing that comes to your head.
- You may not say anything at all.
- You will not react to the people who are trying to push your buttons.
- You will not throw inappropriate jokes and foolishness into a conversation.

- Everything you say will start to have weight.
- And when what you say has weight your life is going to change all around you.

You are going to think it's magic, but it's not. It's Him.

Hey, I'll be back with more next month.

Friendly,

TRI SUMMER TOUR "Who's minding the store?"

I am enjoying my travel about the country to visit family and friends of TRI. However, there are places that I will not be able to visit this summer ... time and finances have precluded some stops. May I have a rain check?

I have been receiving your forwarded notes and letters of encouragement. They are most appreciated. All ministry correspondence and materials requests will continue to be handled in a timely manner.

From time to time, I will broadcast LIVE remote shows. These events will be posted in the ThINKer's chat, on Think Red Ink Ministries Facebook and ThinkREDInk Twitter.

It is time to start making plans for your fall travel. Will I have the pleasure of your company at the Feast of Tabernacles in Pie Town? Don ThINKers' Thoughts!

Hello. This is my first time on your website. I heard Mr. Don Harris on a podcast of "Journey for Truth" with Tami Urbanek and I have to say my eyes are even more open than they were. I experienced a spiritual awakening about a year and a half ago and ever sense then I have had an unquenchable desire to find the truth. I don't know what it is but I just can't stop looking and researchings things that I would never even thought of in my past.

I grew up in a strict Christian home where it was the LAW. Today I see things so differently. I heard Mr. Harris on my radio and I was so intrigued and would love to learn more. He said that you guys would send me a copy of his book. I would love to donate something to your ministry when I am able, but I just don't have the means at this time. I would love to learn more of what he has to say. ... I would greatly appreciate it and thank you so much for what you do. This world really needs to wake up and you are helping it to do that. Thank you so much. (TRI sent the requested books.)

... What a journey this life is. Five years ago ... I said "I want to go to Pie Town!" :) I had already met you but wanted him [my husband] to meet you also. I am grateful that GLC connected with you & that we were able to hear TRUTH come out of A MAN! (LOL) You have always given us so much to THINK about!!

I know you don't like a bunch of "Kuddos" but I don't know if you really realize how much you mean to us - ALL of us. OK - so the numbers are not what they were ... but, hey - HE said HE was going to be sifting out the chaff ...

Remember - 'back in the day' - it was all about the numbers!!

My family started out Baptist ... I'll never forget the area in the very front where they'd add a number every time someone went forward to get "saved". I remember "Revivals" where so many people would go forward & then once the Revival ended ... those new believers would never be seen again.

Wow! We have come so far since those days.

I wanted to write you a note of thanks and encouragement - because I appreciate so much the privilege of being able to listen to your archived phone messages anytime during the day. That works for me very well and you have been instrumental in my seeing many things from a different perspective.

You have stressed many times in your talks 3 things 1) Daily listen to the voice of God speaking to me personally 2) Never violate my conscience and 3) Obey all of God's commandments. I am passing that on to many people, with the explanation that if you are not obeying all of God's commandments, you cannot trust your conscience, and the voice you attribute to God speaking in your ear is most likely that of yourself and therefore there is no guidance in your life. Well, that's simplistically said, and you say it much better but when I get it on paper, it sure is convincing.

My grandson is in the Air Force and is leaving for Afghanistan the 4th of July. He was brought up going to Sunday School and his parents are good people but of course neglect purposely to acknowledge the Sabbath. Since my grandson is now old enough to defend his country, he is old enough to hear the truth so - thank you for your help in writing to him. . . He will appreciate it one day.

Those 3 things I iterated to him along with the Sabbath and who on earth has any authority to change what God wrote in stone. This is not the first time I've written to him since he has been away from his parents home about spiritual things and it is not the first time I've written to him PERIOD.

Many times through the years, I have sent letters to all my grandkids, siblings, nieces, nephew about eternal life, but after re-watching Surviving The End (DVD), I have new impetus to be more diligent in putting the truth to them straightforward. It's time!!! Thank you once again.

I wrote you a while back and told you that I slap on my phone headset and take TRI walking with me for up to an hour many times a week, and it helps me to stay with the walking, as well as being spiritually encouraged. Since the archived messages can be anywhere from current to years old, I never know for sure what program I'm hearing, but recently the one you promoted Surviving the End is so excellent. I have the DVD and just finished watching it again. I am planning to get several from TRI to send to siblings, kids, friends. It's a "slammer" but so chock full of truth that one just can't miss the point - well not easily at least.

Stay well, Don - the people need your voice to show the way to THE VOICE. Blessing to the people who help you there at TRI.

NOTE: TRI sent multiple copies of "Surviving The End" to this listener. You too can enjoy selected programs from the archive at Think Red Ink TV or by listening to TRI Radio.

From the ThINKer's chat room:

"...we face a lot of pressure over here. I have great uncle and relatives who are Pentecostals and we have regard for elders in Nigerian culture but hey this is scripture and we have to keep the Torah. ... this is a very rare moment for me to join in through the internet. ... [not everyone is able to hear] Well. this makes me HUMBLE every time. ..."
